with two acts of duties requiring diverse qualifications for their discharge. It stands, first, as representative of the government to see that these highways are in fact public. It is commanded to enforce the provisions of the act to regulate commerce. It must see that rates are reasonable and just; that the practices and gregulations of railways are not oppressive; that the penalties provised by the act are enforced. In the near, future its powers must, be extended to the operation of the railway as well. These duties are largely executive. They can best be discharged by a single head, responsible to the executive, and answerable to the sour of popular criticism. (From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.-It will be arrprise to many Nebraskans to learn that Church Howe is to be transferred from his post as consul general at Montreal, Canada to the consulate at Manchester, England, and yet the transfer is made because the present consul at Manchester, W. H. Bradley, is in bad health and the state department, rather than have him quit the service brought about the exchange of posts, Howe going to Manchester and Bradley to Montreal. Mr. Howe has spent so many years in England that he has come to like them socially and he would rather be a consul accredited direct to the dominion of King Edward than consul general on the border line. The exchange is mutually satisfactory and Mr. Howe goes back to the p lace where he made his reputation as a consular officer and according to the state department he stands at the head of his corps. The Interstate Commerce commission today made public a complaint received from the Traffic bureau of the Merchants Exhange of St. Louis against the Burlington, Missouri Pacific and Rock Island roads naking a genral complaint regarding the charges imposed upon shipments of grain from points in Kansas and Nebraska to St. Louis.
